1. BACKGROUND 1.1. Republic Act No. 11285, otherwise known as the Energy Efficiency and Conservation Act, and its governing Implementing Rules and Regulations (EEC-IRR) provide for establishing a framework to introduce and institutionalize the fundamental policies of energy efficiency and conservation as well as its nationwide promotion. 1.2. The Philippine Energy Labeling Program (PELP) is one of the initiatives of the Department of Energy as part of the enactment of Republic Act 11285, which provides a national labeling system for energy-consuming products (ECPs) based on the energy performance of products. 1.3. The PELP was established through Department Circular DC2020-06-0015, "Prescribing the Guidelines of the Philippine Energy Labeling Program (PELP) for Compliance of Importers, Manufacturers, Distributors and Dealers of Electrical Appliances and other Energy-Consuming Products (ECP)." This Circular was signed on 15 June 2020, published in broadsheet newspapers, namely the Business World and the Daily Tribune, on 26 June 2020, and became effective on 10 July 2020.

1.4. The PELP aims to transform the market and encourage the shift in consumer behavior towards using energy-efficient products and technologies by empowering them through the information displayed on the labels at points of sale. 1.5. To support the implementation of PEPLP and other programs in Energy Efficiency, the DOE has been authorized to develop and maintain the National Energy Efficiency and Conservation Database (NEECD) to ensure efficient evaluation, analysis, and dissemination of data and information for enforcement, planning, and policy-making purposes. 1.6. One of the critical data providers for the NEECD is the PELP System, which processes all company registration, product registration, and energy label issuances. Technical data gathered from these registrations will be the basis for updating the Minimum Energy Performance for Products (MEPP), calculating energy savings projection from market transition to more efficient products, and other energy efficiency-related data statistics.
2. OBJECTIVES 2.1. To develop a comprehensive web-based data analytics toolkit for determining the MEPP for ECPs covered in the PELP. 2.2. To develop a comprehensive web-based data analytics toolkit for calculating and projecting potential energy savings incurred from the market transition to more energy-efficient products. 2.3. To develop a highly customizable and user-friendly data analytics toolkit to calculate and tabulate other PELP data sets/variables and identify feasible value-added use cases for the analytics toolkit. 2.4. To acquire knowledge in data science analytics and use necessary software to support policymaking and implementation on the PELP. 2.5. To develop procedures and manuals on using the toolkit and calculation formula documentation.
3. SCOPE OF SERVICES 3.1.
